Calvin Huang

Specializing in commercial photography for advertisement, Calvin passionately pursues visual perfection with remarkable talent and creativity. His global art sales began when he was chosen to represent Singapore as the featured international photo artist for Asian stock photography and further spurred by featured interviews with Yahoo news, JobsCentral and MediaCorp TV channels on his entrepreneurial photographic success.

After achieving countless experiences in the photography industry, contributing to many highly acclaimed functions & events, his exceptional work of art had earned him the top finalist spot on MediaCorp Channel 5 TV Nikon photography competition, "The Big Shot 2". Equally comfortable in front of the camera, Calvin was occasionally invited as guest speaker for several nationwide high key food events, media and publications. One of which was a special invitation by Nikon Singapore as guest speaker and judge on food photography for the premier and leading food and lifestyle broadcaster; Asian Food Network (AFN).

With the aim of imparting his wealth of knowledge, he was invited by Nikon School Singapore as a partner in 2014 to become a guest instructor, teaching photography.

He also appeared on ClickNetwork's TV show for "Food Styling and Photography" episode and garnered more than 222,000 viewers.

Harnessing the advance photography technology, he occasionally does light painting during his free time and was invited by URA as guest presenter for Asia's first and only sustainable light art festival; i Light Marina Bay 2012. In 2013, he was filmed on MediaCorp OKTO TV show "The Art Bus" where he was interviewed on his art of light painting.
